2nd Annual Fundraiser at Top Golf

Back by popular demand, we are hosting our 2nd annual fundraiser at Top Golf in September. ASCE continues to host this fundraiser to raise money for UNF scholarships for engineering students. UNF students will also be present at the fundraiser, one student per golf team will be assigned at random, where they can network and work together to compete in this friendly competition.

Each company who sponsors will enjoy dinner, drinks, a raffle to win prizes, and a good time! Please see the flyer below for more details or email secretary@jaxasce.com for any other questions! We are filling up fast so get your company to sponsor today!

Summary Florida Section Board Meeting - July 2022

ASCE Jacksonville Branch is happy to announce we had three recipients of distinguished awards at the annual 2022 ASCE Florida Section conference, hosted this year in Orlando, Florida.

- Young Engineer of the Year - Katie Ball, P.E. Katie works at Environmental and Geotechnical Specialists (EGS), has single handedly ran Joint Engineering Societies Together (JEST) that hosts monthly socials for five local engineering societies, has served School Coordinator Chair since 2018 for Northeast Florida's Construction Career Days (CCD), and volunteers in other local engineering societies
- Student Outstanding Service - Tiffany Ritch. Tiffany graduated from UNF in 2022 and now works at Connelly and Wicker, Inc. (CWI). While a student, she was an active member of the ASCE Student Chapter and a catalyst for the Florida Engineering Society (FES) student chapter. Tiffany was one of ten recipients of the 2022 ASCE's New Faces of Civil Engineering.
- Faculty Advisor of the Year - Dr. Ryan Shamet, P.E., whose award was accepted on behalf of Brody Naughton, the past UNF ASCE Student Chapter President. Dr. Shamet started his role as Faculty Advisor during the midst of COVID but was still able to attend the 2022 ASCE Southeast Student Symposium at FAMU-FSU and cheered on his students to victory. Dr. Shamet clearly practices what he preaches and understands that the best way for students to see the value in participating and volunteering as an ASCE member is to set the example.

Student Southeast Symposium

In the spring of each year, over 500 students from 19 universities in the southeast region are to compete in competitions as a celebration of civil engineering here in Jacksonville, Florida. The students learn how to use their skills outside of the classroom, enhance their professional and personal development, and of course have fun!

In 2023 the UNF ASCE Student Chapter is hosting the Southeast Student Symposium from March 23-25th. This is the first time EVER that UNF will be hosting the symposium here in Jacksonville. We are continuing to help support our local university but they could use your help! Please see the sponsorship flyer below and learn how to get involved.

May Outreach 2022

In May, ASCE participated at the Feeding Northeast Florida food bank to lend a helping hand in the community. Our members helped put together various donated, non-perishable food that were sent out to local schools to stop childhood hunger, one of their top missions.

Our chapter participants felt this was a rewarding experience and the look forward to the next time they are able to help those in need.

Look out for our next community Outreach event and see how you can join!

JEST Monthly Social

JEST enjoys bringing engineers together and you are invited! Please come out and join us for another great social to network with your fellow engineering professionals. Please enjoy the photos below of the May social at Sidecar and the June social hosted a Q-ball Billiards.

When: August 23, 2022
